

TRANSVAGINAL MESH LITIGATION

The litigation against American Medical Systems Canada Inc., American Medical Systems Inc., and Endo Pharmaceuticals Inc. (“AMS”) will proceed as two class actions:

- (1) On behalf of women who were or are implanted with AMS transvaginal mesh devices for treatment of Stress Urinary Incontinence (SUI) and their families (AMS SUI Class Action);
- (2) On behalf of women who were or are implanted with AMS transvaginal mesh devices for treatment of Pelvic Organ Prolapse (POP) and their families (AMS POP Class Action).

The claims against AMS have not been resolved and the defendant denies any fault or liability and will vigorously defend the actions.
